

Eco-social Justice: Issues, Challenges and Ways Forward

Voices from De Novo '11

Edited by: Peter Jones, Debra Miles, Abraham Francis and Rajeev SP

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS

Abraham Francis (Dr)

PG Dip Human Rights; MSW; PhD: Lecturer, Department of Social Work and Human Services, James Cook University, Townsville, Australia.

Abraham is a social worker, social activist and an academic who has worked in rural and urban community development, street children, youth and entrepreneurship, mental health and corporate social responsibility programmes. He has experience in participatory rural appraisal and believes in participatory practices in mainstreaming the voices of the poor in the process of social development. In his current role Abraham teaches in the areas of community development, group work, social work and mental health, and industrial social work and is the Coordinator for social work programmes at the Mackay campus.

Abul Khan

BSW (Hons.) MSW; M Phil; PQSW: Mental Health Social Worker, Queensland Health & PhD Scholar, James Cook University, Townsville, Australia.

Abul trained as a social worker in India in 1994 and worked in substance misuse projects for 3 years before joining St Xavier's College, Kolkata to teach sociology and social work and also manage a rural development project for 5 years with student volunteers. Abul went to the UK in 2003 to pursue M Phil (research) & PQSW and worked for statutory and voluntary sectors in child protection and mental health for over 6 years. Currently, he is undertaking PhD studies at James Cook University while working as a mental health clinician for the Queensland Government.

Aneesh Jose Thevarkattil

BA (Phil): Master of Social Work Student, Don Bosco Arts and Science College, Angadikkadavu, Kannur, Kerala, India.

Originally from Paisakkari, Aneesh has studied in Kerala and graduated from Calicut University. He is a passionate advocate for both the environment and human rights.

Ann Tullgren

BSW: Associate Lecturer, University of Tasmania, Hobart, Australia.

Ann Tullgren is a retired social work practitioner living in Hobart Tasmania. She has worked in a range of health and welfare settings, most recently as a social worker for Centrelink. Ann has a long record of activism in mental health and has been able to use her lived experience as a mental health consumer to enrich her writing and teaching in social work practice in mental health. She is a co-author of a social work text book, and contributor to local and national educational projects around mental health in the social work curricula.

Satheesh Kumar (Dr)

MSW; PhD: Assistant Professor, Department of Social Work, School of Social Sciences & International Studies, Pondicherry University, Kalapet, Puducherry, India.

Dr Kumar is an experienced researcher and has mentored 15 higher research degree students, including six PhD students. His research foci include Community Development and Social Work Research, Human Dimensions in Coastal Disaster Management.

Catherine Crawford

BSW: Co-ordinator, North Queensland Combined Women's Services (The Women's Centre), Townsville, Australia.

As a social worker for 27 years, Cathy's career has been challenging, interesting and varied. She has coordinated the Women's Centre for 5 years, ensuring the centre continues to be a dynamic, relevant and flexible women's only space, providing services which reflect the diverse and evolving needs of women in the region. Having practiced in New Zealand and Australia, Cathy's experience includes being a team leader in the child and forensic mental health field, a forensic interviewer for children and young people who had been sexually assaulted and a child protection worker and manager.

Debra Miles (Dr)

BSW; MSW; PhD: Deputy Head of School, Arts & Social Sciences & Director Centre for Women's Studies, James Cook University, Townsville, Australia.

Dr Debra Miles graduated as a social worker in 1980 and has worked in child protection, disability services and various women's services in Queensland and the Northern Territory. Her primary research interests include social work and human rights, women and children's rights, and social work with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples. Dr Miles has recently embarked on a number of international collaborations in India and Thailand.

Diane Plumb

BSW: Senior Counsellor, North Queensland Combined Women's Services (The Women's Centre), Townsville, Australia.

Having practised predominantly in the field of violence against women, Di's current role as senior counsellor at The Women's Centre incorporates direct service delivery, staff support and service development/ management. Di leads a team of skilled and resourceful women who frequently confront complex situations when engaging with and advocating for women in relation to their safety and ongoing support needs.

Girish Kesava Pillai

LLM: Vice Principal and Assistant Professor Dayanand College of Law, Latur, Maharashtra.

Mr Pillai graduated in law from the Government Law College, Thiruvananthapuram under the University of Kerala, in 1995. From 1995 to 1998 Girish was an active advocate for human rights in Alleppey, Kerala India. Today he teaches at the Dayanand College of Law and is an active researcher and publisher in human rights law in India.

Ines Zuchowski

BSW: Associate Lecturer, Field Education & PhD Scholar, Department of Social Work and Human services, James Cook University, Townsville, Australia.

Ines has extensive experience as a social worker, working since 1992 in areas such as child and youth welfare, violence prevention, professional development of supervision, social justice and human rights, women's issues and field education for social work students. Ines' work in the area of violence against women has attracted three Queensland Domestic Violence Prevention Awards and an Australian Violence Prevention Merit Award. Ines has published a number of articles and resources on violence provision and more recently on field education for social work students. Ines is a collaborator in a recently granted WIL grant to develop the integrated learning experiences in social work and human service education and an AASW research grant application exploring the experience of Aboriginal and Torres Strait islander students in field education.

Jaison M C

MSW; M.Phil: Assistant Professor, De Paul Institute of Science and Technology, Angamali, Kerala

Jaison M C has worked as a Social Worker in many diverse development projects in India. He is a trained facilitator in Personality Development, Community Intervention for Social Welfare and Youth Development programmes and is a consultant in the area of Welfare Project Planning and Management.

Jinson Joseph

MSW (Community Development ) Student Department of Social Work CMS College of Science & Commerce, Coimbatore, Tamil Nadu, India.

Jose Antony (Dr)

MSW; PhD; PGDHRM; DIM: Head, Department of Social Work, Sree Sankaracharya University of Sanskrit, Kalady, Ernakulam District, Kerala, India.

Dr Antony has been a Postgraduate Lecturer in the Department of Social Work, SSUS Kalady since December 1995; and has worked as a Research Assistant, Rajagiri, a project officer with TIRDP, Talavady and a consultant, trainer and resource person. At present he is heading the Social Work Department of Sree Sankaracharya University, Kalady, Kerala with 24 staff and 200 students. He is also an approved PhD research guide of both the Sree Sankaracharya University of Sanskrit and Mahatma Gandhi University. Dr Antony is an active researcher and publisher in areas which include monitoring and evaluation in development programmes, facilitating capacity building and empowerment through mentoring, trainings on creativity and developmental learning practices for professionals, teachers and students.

Joseph Sebastian Thekedam (Dr)

MBA; MPhil; PhD: Reader & Associate Professor, St. Berchmans' College, Changanacherry, Kerala.

Joseph Sebastian Thekedam has been teaching, at the graduate and post-graduate levels, for more than 21 years. He received his first PhD degree from University of Nagpur in Social Science and second PhD degree from Kerala University in Management Studies. He holds four masters degree in Business Administration, Education, History and Philosophy. He is a research guide of Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam. His research interests include leadership, communication skills, interpersonal and group dynamics. He has published many articles in professional, national and international, journals.

K Nagaraju (Dr)

PhD: Associate Professor of Social Work at Sri Ramakrishna Mission, Vidyalaya College of Arts and Science, Coimbatore, Tamil Nadu.

Dr K Nagaraju has a doctoral degree from University of Madras, and 20 years of teaching and research experience with particular focus on community development. Having guided 7 PhD and 12 MPhil scholars, he has participated in a number of seminars and conferences and has published 24 papers. He is a member of, and resource person for many learned bodies. His areas of interest include AIDS awareness, health, care and support, project appraisal, watershed and wasteland development, sustainable development, awareness creation and social action, human rights and elderly care.

Kalpana Goel (Dr)

PhD: Lecturer & Researcher in the Social Work and Rural Practice Unit at the Centre for Regional Engagement, University of South Australia, Whyalla, Australia.

Dr Kalpana Goel is responsible for coordinating research for honours and higher degree research students at CRE. She has research interests in the area of migration, gender issues and higher education. Recently she completed a study on settlement experiences of immigrants in regional South Australia. She is particularly passionate about improving lives of those who have migrated to Australia and consider it their home.

Lena Robinson (Prof)

Professor of Social Work at Central Queensland University, Rockhampton, Australia.

Professor Lena Robinson was Professor of Social Work at the University of the West of Scotland, UK. She has published and researched widely in the field of race, ethnicity, culture and social work practice. She was involved in the international comparative study of ethnocultural youth and has recently completed a joint comparative study of Muslim youth in UK and New Zealand. She is currently involved in an international study of mutual intercultural relations in plural societies.

M K Suja (Prof)

MSW; PhD: Professor in Medical & Psychiatric Social Work at CMS College of Science & Commerce, Coimbatore, India.

Prof. Suja has sixteen years of experience in various fields of social work, particularly in mental health and medical social work and has also trained in street theatre. She has presented papers in national and international conferences and published widely. She presently acts as a Student Counsellor of the college.

Narayan Gopalkrishnan

Lecturer in Social Work and Community Welfare at James Cook University, Cairns, Australia.

Narayan has a twenty five year career in Australia and overseas, working in universities, NGOs and the private sector. This has included major development projects and large corporate entities in India and work in the not-for-profit sector and academia in Australia. Narayan's teaching and research interests relate to Community Development, Community and Ecological Sustainability, Cultural Diversity and Multiculturalism, Rural Development and Livelihoods, Participatory Methodologies, Social Determinants of Health and Well Being, Integrated Medicine and Complementary Therapies, and he has published widely in these areas. He was the Founding Director of the Centre for Multicultural and Community Development, an academic research centre of the University of the Sunshine Coast, Australia, which focused on research and development relating to multiculturalism and community development.

Nisha C Waghmare (Dr)

BSc; MSW; SET; Ph.D:* Assistant Professor in Social Work, Walchand College of Arts & Science, Solapur, Maharashtra, India

Dr Waghmare has worked with the Department of Woman & Child Development in Maharashtra and organisations such as MAVIM (a government organisation focussed on women's empowerment) & CHILDLINE in various capacities. Her research interests include children's rights, gender equality, youth development & women's rights. She has published widely in the area of therapeutic intervention with children in India.

Peter Jones

BSW (Hons); MEd (Adult Learning):* Senior Lecturer & PhD Scholar, Department Social Work and Human Services, James Cook University, Townsville Australia.

A social worker with a background in working with families and young people, Peter began working at JCU in 1997. Since then he has taught in most areas of the undergraduate and postgraduate social work programmes. Peter has been awarded two national ALTC Citations for Outstanding Contributions to Student Learning, as an individual in 2007 and as a member of a small team in 2009. He also currently holds a Higher Education Research and Development Society of Australasia (HERDSA) Fellowship. Peter has presented and published on a range of teaching and learning issues including topics such as ecological justice in social work education, transformative learning, and web 2.0 applications.

Rajeev S P

MSW; MHRM:* Head and Course Coordinator Postgraduate Department, De Paul School of Social Work, De Paul Institute of Science and Technology.

Rajeev has worked as a Social Worker, a Learning and Development officer and as an academician in Social Work. He is an experienced facilitator of Communication, Family Empowerment and Self Esteem Development for Adolescents programmes.

Robert Bland A M (Prof)

BSW (Hons); MSW; PhD: Queensland Health Chair of Mental Health in the School of Social Work & Human Services, University of Queensland, Australia.

Robert has worked as a mental health social worker for Queensland Health for many years, including positions in hospital and community settings. His research on the family experience of schizophrenia led to the establishment of a family intervention programme at the Princess Alexandra hospital in Brisbane, and this programme has been adapted for use in mental health settings across Australia. In 1998 Robert became Professor of Social Work and Head of School at the University of Tasmania. He has been active in a number of national committees for the AASW including the mental health committee and the practice standards committee, and the Mental Health Council of Australia. Robert has published widely in the area of social work and mental health practice. He has been a keynote speaker at national and international conferences in mental health. His research interests include social work practice, practice standards, families and mental health, spirituality and mental health, and social inclusion.

Sheeba Joseph

MSW (Medical and Psychiatry); MPhil (Social Work); MPhil (Sociology): Head, Department of Social Work BSSS, Bhopal, India.

Ms Sheeba Joseph has been with the Bhopal School of Social Sciences since 2006. She is NET qualified and has a PG Diploma in Personnel Management and Industrial Relations from Rajendra Prasad Institute of Management, Mumbai. She is actively involved in Social Work education and training and has experience in NGOs, Medical and Psychiatric settings.

Sivaja K Nair

MSW; MPhil.: PhD Scholar, Department of Social Work, School of Social Sciences & International Studies Pondicherry University, Kalapet, Puducherry, India.

Sivaja is currently undertaking her doctoral studies at Pondicherry University and has research interests in Natural Resource Management, Social Work Research, Sexual Minorities and Human Rights.

Sony Jose (Dr)

MSW; PhD: Associate Professor Loyola College of Social Sciences, Thiruvananthapuram, Kerala, India.

Dr Sony Jose is an experienced counsellor with expertise in personality development and premarital counselling. He has numerous publications and has been part of two major research projects with the University Grants Commission of the Indian Government and Indian Council of Social Science Research.

Sunnichan Varkey Chalangady (Fr Alex)

B.Sc Physics; B Th.; MBA; MPhil; MCA: Principal, De Paul Institute Science & Technology, Kerala, India.

Fr Alex, a member of Vincentian Congregation, is presently Principal of De Paul Institute of Science & Technology, a college affiliated to Mahatma Gandhi University since 2002. He is also functioning as the Executive Director of D'Soft Solutions, Angamaly. His professional experience started in 1999 as the Associate Director of DePaul Computer Academy, Angamaly. He is currently a PhD Scholar (Management) in Pune University, Maharashtra.

T Jayasekher (Dr)

MSc; MPhil; PhD; MBA; MA (JMC); MSW: Environmental Scientist in Tamilnadu Pollution Control Board, Tamilnadu, India.

Dr Jayasekher has numerous publications in the area of air pollution. In 2010 he was awarded the 'Best Research Paper Award' from the Department of Environment and Forest, Tamilnadu, India for his paper entitled "Aerosols near by a coal fired thermal power plant: Chemical comparison and toxic evaluation" published in Chemosphere (2009) 75, 1525–1530. He is an approved research guide for Manonmanium Sundaranar University with expertise in atmospheric contaminants. Dr Jayasekher is currently Chairman, Environment in the Rotary Club of Tinneveli District and is successfully involved in many environment related activities, such as environmental awareness programmes, conducting seminars and lectures among students and other groups.

Vithayathil Norvy Paul (Fr Norvy)

PhD: Assistant Director of Catholic Health Association of India, Kerala.

Fr Norvy is post graduate in social work from University of Pune. He has previously worked as the Course Coordinator of the De Paul School of Social Work at De Paul Institute of Science and Technology for five years. He completed his thesis in Social work with a special focus on Development-Induced Displacement and social disarticulation/loss of social capital. He has rich experience in both academic and practical areas of social work and has presented and published widely in national and international seminars and workshops.